President's Message

Dear Friends:

It's hard to believe that another year is over for ACGS. As you know, our year starts the first of June and that confuses a lot of us who are January to December people. One year Claude and I forgot our dues completely and couldn't understand why our quarterlies didn't come. I can guarantee if you take an office and see the treasurer's report every month, you will remember.

It's been a good year for us. We've had some really outstanding programs and I'm always sorry when so many of our members aren't present to take part. I loved the program on the Stewarts by Mr. Monroe Stewart and the family chart he gave us was very impressive and very useful to anyone with Stewarts in their lineage. The representatives from the Land Commissioner's Office had a very good program and gave us a new source for information.

Everyone present at the program in March was excited about the presentation of the daily life of a Civil War soldier by Mr. Bobby Freeman who is a member of a Civil War Re-enactment group. His knowledge of the details of the battles was impressive and his knowledge of the service of his own ancestors made him especially "kin" to us. We all left that day whistling Dixie in our hearts and in our heads!

Last month when our speakers had to cancel on Thursday night, our own people were able to fill in and make the meeting interesting and enjoyable. I have never left a meeting of our Society empty handed. I've been given new information and new insights, a good visit with friends and some good laughs or a new challenge to work on. I'm convinced genealogists are the most unselfish people I know. They are so willing to share their knowledge with beginners and so happy when something new is uncovered, regardless of who benefits from it. I have joined groups in other states, people who will never know me personally, and have always found a welcome. Many times as soon as your surnames are published you begin hearing from other researchers eager to share with you.

Claude and I have noted several times that he has never had a check to the Society that wasn't good. I think that is because people so interested in the name and history of their family are careful to keep the honor of that name.

I am one of those people, and I have learned that there are hundreds, who are supposed to be related to Jesse James. I have done a lot of reading about Jesse, and, even with all his faults, he had his own standards. A lot of men used his name because he was a popular man in his part of the country. One of these impersonators once rode up to a farm where a man was plowing. He shot the man and his mules and told the family he was Jesse James. When the real Jesse heard about it he hunted the man down and killed him. His reason in his own words, "Jesse James doesn't shoot down good mules." If I ever prove I'm related to Jesse, that's something I'll be proud to record.

This year on Mother's Day, as Claude had the blessing at our noon meal, he thanked God for the Mothers and Grandmothers in his life. He mentioned each of them by name and then he said, "What a heritage". I think all of us could say "Amen" to that.

Mary Spainhour

Reminiscences of N. C. Denson

Miss Becky told me later of her anxiety that day. Well as agreed on by Miss Becky HUGHES and I on the night of December 27th, we were married. We were to have an infair (infare) dinner the next day at my house but that night Jos GUICE, a negro boy of that neighborhood, stole Jim, the noted mule, saddle and bridle, and left for other parts. About an hour by the sun, the next morning, when my half-brother, Ed BALDY, who was to bring horse and mule for Miss Becky and I to ride home and eat an infair dinner, he came with horse minus the mule and my suspicion was aroused. I said to Miss Becky, "You stay here at your pa's and I will go and search for the mule." After riding several hours and several miles and getting friends to go in different directions, I got on hot trail about 12 miles from home, about 10 miles south of Monticello, I went on until within 4 miles of Monticello, I saw with bridle and saddle hitched to paling in front of Brother R. Y. ROYAL'S house, the negro standing between the house and gate. He, the negro standing between the house and the gate. He, the negro, was in the act of trading the mule to a Mr. GREENLEE, for a horse and $20.00 to boot, so I took charge of the negro and mule and in order to make the negro secure I tied his arms so they would hang limp by his sides and put on my horse, and I rode the mule which had a good saddle, a better saddle than the horse, and as I desired to get back where Miss Becky was, as early as possible, I let the negro ride instead of making him walk. It was very cold. The sun shone until just before sunset, when it clouded up and began to sleet and snow. I went by Mr. BENSONS to let his son, Porter, who had gone to Longview, ten miles on the Saline River, to look for the mule, and to let him know I had the mule and thief and was going back to wife's house. I was riding head up and in good spirits. It was now night and snow was falling fast, just north of Fountain Hill about two miles from Mr. HUGHES I looked around and to my surprise and dismay old John, the horse the negro was riding, was pacing along without a rider. Just before that moment was the last time I ever saw John GRICE, tho I hunted that night and the next morning with dogs and double barrel shot gun. So the next morning Miss Becky and I rode home through a blinding snow storm to start life together. I ate my first meal at home about three p.m. on the 29th of Dec. 1867. After a few days stay at home I left sister Casandrie and Emiley and brother R. L. DENSON on the little home, my older brother being in New Orleans, and took my wife two miles north to the farm where the negroes were. That was an eventful year filled with thrilling and experiences. About the first of March my brother came home to die. Oh how we did love him and how he did love us. My dear young wife and I with the negroes went to the home place to work the 13th day of March and planted some corn but in the afternoon it clouded up and began to snow. I had the negroes to load the wagon with corn and start for the other farm and I lingered behind to talk with my brother. A runner came and said the wagon load of corn had bogged down. I bid my dear brother goodbye and went to the assistance of negroes. I went on home to where my dear wife was. Just one week from that day, March 20, my mother's birthday, a runner or messenger, came and said, "Come quickly, your brother can't live long." I went post haste, my wife to come later on horseback, but when I reached him his spirit had gone to God who gave it. I strove on through trials and difficulties and poverty with my precious wife, a great deal of the time sick, but never murmured or complained, and made a crop and came out in debt, moved back to my little home, let the negroes go who owed me for provisions more than I owed. I gave my sisters and brother all that belonged to my older brother. Our first babe, Helen Hughes DENSON was born September 25. So early in 1868, wife, babe and I moved back in the house with sisters and brother but soon my youngest sister, Emiley sickened and died. Soon afterwards step-father died and left mother and three children, half brothers and sisters. I did the best thing under the circumstances, I took them to my house and shared roof and bread with them. Three families under one roof and if there was ever a hard feeling between my dear mother and sweet precious wife I never knew it. My brother and I made a good crop that year and got a good price for it. The next year I got a house for mother and children, furnished team. Her boys and brother and I worked through, though we had separate crops. The next year being '70 I got the home for her. Brother and sister lived with them. They made a good crop and got a good price and were self sustained. But it was a sad year for my dear wife and I who were alone in the home and at first, oh, so happy but in July just as I got a buggy so we could go together, sweet little Carrie Bell DENSON, who was born August 28, 1869, took sick with colic-infantum and weeks suffering, on the 21st of July dies. Then again in October our dear three year old, Helen DENSON, on the 18th of October died and as we walked from the graveyard my dear wife leaning on my arm, oh! how sad we were when we reached our home, childless. The first thing we done was to kneel down and pray to our God and Father. Next February 2, 1871, our dear boy, W. A. (William) DENSON, was born, which brought new life and care to our hearts and home. "'70, '72, and '73 was spent on our little farm west of Fountain Prairie. On June 1, 1873, another baby girl was born. Emma Bradford DENSON. In the fall of '73 I sold the little farm to Richard LOCK on credit and moved to W. M. STINSON'S farm four miles northwest near the county line between Ashley and Drew. I farmed in 1874 with W. M. STINSON helping to repair fences and for rent. '74 was a very dry year and a short crop that fall. Mr. STINSON married Miss Till DEAN and they lived '75 with her parents on Bare House (Bearhouse). I rented STINSON'S farm. My wife's younger brother, Matt M. HUGHES, a good boy, worked with me. We made a good crop. That winter I moved to my father-in-law's place, one and one half miles south of Fountain Hill, as father-in-law moved with his family to the Mississippi River at Luna Landing. I made repairs on the place for rent in 1876. In 1875, Flat Creek Church, my old church, licensed me to preach and made appointment for me to preach, but oh, how it did rain that night, so I did not preach that night. We made another appointment and I preached my first sermon at Flat Creek Church in 1876. My text, "Who hath believed our report" Isaiah 53:1. '76 was election year and I was central committee-man from White township. I made a good crop that year and made some collections on place, sold to LOCK, but not enough to get away to Texas, so I went in the latter part of the summer to Bradley County and as my wife had one sister, Mary E. MACK, whom she loved dearly living in Warren, I spent the night in her home and talked to her and her husband, W. F. MACK, relative to future plans and agreed to move on the track of land bought by him, MACK, from HALE. I bought half interest in said place located two and a half miles southwest of Warren on the middle Moro road. Moved on the place in November, 1876 and made my first crop in Bradley County in 1877, assisted by John LOCK and Ben RICE, white boys, paid them wages. We made a good crop but my, how we did work. That year I preached a few sermons as a licensated and in the meantime I had joined with my wife in the Warren Baptist Church. Bro. M. (?) Y. MORAN (?) was the preacher. He was a great preacher. He advised me to wait until some church called for my ordination before I accepted ordination, which I did. W. E. PAXTON, a great man and preacher, followed MORAN in the pastorate of the Warren church. In May 1878, N. (?) L. GARDNER visited me and told me that Smyrna Church, situated in the southern part of Bradley County, wanted me to preach for them. Just before this time Lucy Hughes DENSON was born, April 11, 1878, so now I had a wife tried and true and three children depending on me for support. I was poor in this worlds goods limited in education and Bible knowledge, and a burden on my head, woe unto me if I preach not the gospel. In '75 my mother, who was a great Bible student, died. In '76 my sister Cassandrie DENSON BULL died leaving one little girl, Lena Bull SNEED. Soon through J. B. SEARCY'S influence Enon Church of Cleveland County across the river from Warren called me to preach for them. Smyrna, by resolution in conference, asked the Warren Baptist Church to set me apart to the full gospel ministry so the Warren church in conference took the matter up for consideration and called or invited a presbytery of ministers, consisting of M. Y. MORGAN (?), J. B. SEARCY, Solomen GARDNER, and W. E. PAXTON, the pastor, to meet at the Baptist Church in Warren on Sunday (1st) in September, 1878 to ordain N. C. DENSON to the full work of the ministry. So when morning came and I arrived W. E. PAXTON and Solomen GARDNER, with the church with all members of the council invited, present, but they organized and proceeded with the examination and ordination. Just here I think is in place to record that J. H. RIGGIN, a Methodist minister, who was at my mother's bedside just before she went home, to glory, and heard her say to me, "Son, if you feel you have a work to do, don't resist." He, RIGGIN, was at the ordination service. I was soon preaching every Sunday and working six days on the farm during the week. I kept this up about fifteen years. In the meantime building me a comfortable home one and three fourth miles southwest of Warren, where my family and I lived happy. Here, one day I saw my dear wife standing by my bedside, weeping, and said, "I knew it would come to this someday but I didn't think so quick." I was sick in bed, not boasting, but because it was true. Permit me to say for forty years through God's goodness to me I had not been in bed a week at a time, so by His grace I was soon up and going. One day I said, "Wife, I am going to quit working free negroes." She said, "I will believe it when I see it." I said, "If you live you will see it." Again one day I said, "Wife, I'm going to quit raising cotton." She said, "I will believe it when I see it." I said, "If you live you will see it." Here, I left my three children all in bed with measles and rode horseback 25 miles and preached, leaving no one but dear beloved, consecrated wife with them and God, who I serve in my spirit and body, knows I love them all. After preaching Saturday I went with W. H. BARRINGER home, ate supper and he and I rode five miles to see Bro. J. C. GILLIS, he is still alive, who was sick on his death bed. We spent the night. In the night he, GILLIS, had his wife wake up and told her to get his pocketbook, a large leather pocketbook he kept notes and papers in. He took from it a note against J. E. MEEK with J. R. S. MEEK as a security, for $665.00, put it under his pillow and said to me, make me remember in the morning what I am talking tonight." So the next morning, I at the suggestion of MURPHY who was present that night, his step-son-in-law, spoke to his wife about it. So she said, "Mr. GILLIS, do you want me to give Bro. DENSON that note?" He said, "No give it to me." He took it and sat up in his bed and put the other hand on my head, in the presence of his wife and God to witness, and said, "You have been the best friend I have ever had." I said, "Bro. GILLIS, I fear you appreciate me too much." He said, "Not to you but to the Lord." He was the grandfather of Mrs. Mollie HERRING, who with his wife heired the estate. I got every dollar of that $665.00 and my house in Warren is the fruit of it. I bade him goodbye that morning, never saw him any more as he died eight days later. I never knew it until he was dead and buried. I went from his house that morning, Sunday, to Concord Church, where his membership was, and preached. Got dinner on the way. Went five miles to Union Hall Church, preached at three o'clock p.m., rode home, arriving about 9 p.m. tired in body and mind. Met my beloved partner and consecrated wife watching with those dear children whom God cared for in my absence and permitted me to find improving. On the goodness and mercy of my God and Father, blessed be his name forever. About this time the Bartholomew Association met at Lake Village, Bro. Solomen GARDNER and I went through the country in a buggy, He furnishing the buggy and me the horses, from Warren to Lake Village. It was while at Lake Village at the meetings I heard Bro. J. S. WOODS say as the letters from the churches were being read, "See, he has baptized more than all of us." I served one church, Ebenezer, five and one half miles west of Warren, twelve years without intermission. I was pastor at Warren twice, first for six years and then in mission work three years. The by earnest request of the Warren Church I served them five years more, making in all eleven years, for half time. During this time I was elected moderator of my Bartholomew Association and then without intermission for eight years or nine I was moderator. I have served since that time, twice I think, as moderator. I was twenty odd years on the State Mission Board. Elected in January, 1897 Chaplain of the House of Representatives. Served four months, again in 1905. Then again in 1905 was elected State Chaplain of the State Senate served four months kept up my work up and down the Iron Mountain Railroad and missed only four roll calls in four months. I have a gold headed cane as a token of their appreciation. I have been missionary of the association for two years and the State Board a number of years. Have organized Wilmar Church and saw building built. Organized church at Crossett and a building erected, organized a church at Dermott, done soliciting, planning, and having house built, and preached for them eight years. Organized churches at Montrose and McGehee also Morrell. Reorganized churches at Collins and helped organize Arkansas City and Blissville. Preached at Portland eleven years. Seven years the first time and saw a house built, then after four years went and preached four years more. Have been twice vice-president of the Arkansas Baptist Convention and am at present vice-president. Preached four years at Hamburg, have preached for the last 38 years in southeast Arkansas, baptized hundreds, married hundreds of couples, and helped bury great numbers. Held two meetings in Texas and one in Mississippi, and though am now past 75 years of age, thanks be to God, am still active in his service. After the death of my two sweet children in 1870 there was not a death of my family for 28 years. We raised three children to be grown and now married. In 1892 my beloved wife had a half sister to die leaving two little orphan boys, Leicester, nearly five years old, and Dixie Hannibal, nearly three years old, without homes or visible means of support. We took them into the home April 11, 1892 and shared bread and shelter with them for twelve years. Both are still living and married, Leicester HANNIBAL and wife in Los Angeles, California and Dixie HANNIBAL and wife in Batesville, Arkansas, as railroad agent, and has been railroad agent with good salary since before he was sixteen years of age. I had a great desire to give my children better education advantages than I had. I sent Billie to Ouchita College one session and he seemed to think that the world would come to an end without him gaining distinction if he didn't work. You can't about a boy. Billie is a grand boy and the world about him knows he is living in it. He has a noble, true wife in the person of Fay WILSON DENSON and two sweet boys, all the grand-children I have of my own. The health of my precious wife, Rebecca HUGHES DENSON, began to fail some two or three years before the end came and early in January of 1897 when I was elected chaplain of the House of Representatives, I started Emma DENSON CLEMENTS back to Ouchita. She went in '96 and this was her second year in college. The next year we started baby girl, Lucy DENSON DANIEL, she entered Sept. 1897 and when she came in June 1898 her mother, the idol of all our hearts, was failing rapidly in health. We all showed her every attention and kindness. How precious the memories of her, still, though eighteen years have come and gone, but on the 13th of August, 1898, about three p.m. one of the dearest and sweetest lives went out. "She rest from her labors and her works do follow her," sweet one, rest on, someday we shall meet where parting will be no more. So in September Lucy went back to Ouchita and Emma the big girl with the big warm heart kept house doing her best and that was well making a home still dear and sweet to us all. Lucy wrote to me just before school closed her second year saying, "Papa, if you don't object I am going to contract with Prof. CONGER to go to school at Ouchita another year and finish my elocution in music and I will teach and pay it when I get home." We have a note for what was due at the end of the three years and, true to her promise, she got a class at Farmerville, La., and done her best but what she failed to pay the Lord enabled me to pay. So it was paid and we got a cleared receipt. She got home and learned her sister Emma was soon to be married to the man of her choice. A good man, take him around up and down, everyday, none better. I wrote Lucy to go ahead and arrange to teach and me and the boys would get along somehow, but she had a head like "collins sheep" and something like her dad with firmness of her mama so she kept house, taught a little music, tried to keep up with the society of the old folks, as well as keep in touch with the young folks, so home went on pretty smoothly. So I began to think if I could find the right kind of lady it would be best for Lucy and me for me to marry the second time. I got my consent but to find the right lady was a hard proposition. But after a while I thought I had found one that would fill the bill. I made the venture and about the time I thought I had made it good, she said, nothing doing. I thought and tried to pray and decided that faint heart never won fair lady so I tried again and this time she said yes, and stuck to it. On the 28th day of July, 1903 Mrs. Ellen GRUBB and I met in Monticello at the Bussy Hotel and were married. That was thirteen years ago last Friday and I know I love her better today than I did thirteen years ago. We know each other better. She is a noble true lady, oh, I wish I could see her in good health again and I could do more for her health and comfort in days to come than those that are gone. She had two children, Bruce GRUBB a noble boy, and Maude SKIPPER she is as fine as pure gold and worth a hundred cents a dollar. I love to love Maude. Bruce and his wife have four children, one girl and three boys. Maude and Charlie have one girl and one boy living and one boy dead. Vivian belongs to grandma and Ben and she is a premium, it would take more than gold to get her. I once thought my work was most done and I would live and die at Warren but twelve years gone last January 15, I moved to Dermott and began to grapple with new problems. I don't feel like I have been a failure as I have learned to live by the day. I work and pray to do my best everyday, trusting God and trying to do good. I hope to be fed and live long on the earth, this is August 1916, and if I live and do well I hope to write again someday. Lucy, you and Scud can typewrite this and see I have not re-written or prepared before writing to write or desired to write a history, but at the request of Lucy DANIEL, my youngest daughter, to write a sketch or reminiscence of my life, especially that part pertaining to the war '61 to '65 and since without any written data to draw from I have taken scraps from memories book and penned them as they came to me now, after I have passed the seventy-five milepost. I am thankful to my kind heavenly father, who has been good to me and has given me memory that is still clear and active. A lady said a few days ago that W. J. CONE of Montrose said, "If you want the pedigree of any men in Arkansas, especially in southeast Arkansas, ask Bro. N. C. DENSON." Now, after nearly a year has passed, July 24, 1917 and I am in the home alone, as Ellen, my beloved wife, is away at Eureka Springs with Vivian to try to get her health back, I will try to write again. I am still active, preaching every Sunday and night, though I have passed my 76th birthday. Well, on Sept. 13, 1916, I left home on the early morning train, got to Little Rock at 10:30, went to the mission room then to the Eight Street Methodist Church to a temperance meeting. Left Little Rock at, or after 5 p.m. for Batesville to visit Dick, Lena and Claude Denson HANNIBAL. Arrived at Batesville after 9 p.m. Dick met me at Newport, visited the Mosonic orphans home, lock and dam on White River, the Batesville quarry. Had a good time and enjoyed my visit. This has been an eventful year as our beloved president has been force to declare war against Germany but I rejoice to see my country united, one flag standing behind the Christian president, determined indeed, to battle for the right. Through the kindness of friends I attended the reunion of ex-confederates at Washington City, D.C. in June, saw the president. Had a great time. Visited Mt. Vernon, preached in Little Rock on my way going and coming. Preached the next morning and night at Parkdale. Visited the reunion at Vicksburg, Miss. in November. Scud DANIEL, Lucy's husband, had smallpox Christmas and as I did not have to wait on him, as Lucy did that, I visited Billie's family, at Fountain Hill and then to Parkdale as Wilmot to preach.

1918, the war is still raging and our beloved president, backed by Congress and a united people, is trusting God and doing our best to overcome wrong with right and might with right. A million soldiers in France and Europe and perhaps three million more under armies and encampments. This June 20th from May 15 to 20th of June I attended the Southern Baptist Convention at Hot Springs, Arkansas, a great convention in number, 2,043. Work and spiritually, one million dollars for foreign mission. All debts paid and more than one hundred thousand dollars in the bank. Brother and Sister BOTTOMS of Texarkana gave a hundred dollars each for foreign and home missions, many conversions and baptisms. A great convention of great men and women, trusting in God with a mind to work and deny themselves. My wife accompanied me to Hot Springs, her health was not good. We stopped at the Pullman Hotel. Ellen, with Vivian, is now in Eureka Springs, Arkansas for their health and I am in the home all alone save God's spirit for power and love, writing, this is June 20th though past 77 I hope to yet be able to pray to do something to honor Him that so wonderfully blessed me. T. H. BALDY, my stepfather, died last Nov. 1, I believe. From 1918 September 24 to December 1, 1919, the most eventful period of my life. Went with Chas. A. ADKINS to reunion of ex-confederate soldiers had a great time. Returned to home at Dermott, Arkansas, for Bartholomew Association Oct 5 to 7. C. A. ADKINS was a guest at my home, had a great association. The night of the 7th a phone message from Dr. R. P. BAKER to tell Uncle Nick, Dr. COBB is dying. When reached his bedside, thirty-four miles away at Wilmot he was dead. He, COBB, had contributed to my expenses to Tulsa, Okla. We buried him on the evening of Oct. 8. By the 10th there was someone with influenza in almost every home in Wilmot. On the 4th Sunday in November I was called home to help bury Harry COURTNEY, who died with the flu in Dermott. Clark SIMS, my beloved pastor was stricken with the flu on Saturday night before the 4th Sunday. The mill at Blissville closed down for Thanksgiving services November 26. I held the service and come home to Dermott in the evening and took part in Thanksgiving service at night. SIMS was very sick. On the 11th of November the armistice was signed. On Saturday before the first Sunday, in 1918, I was called from Wilmot to Dermott as Clark SIMS, beloved pastor had died 9:30 o'clock. We held services at Dermott Church Sunday evening about sundown. We left (with) the remains for Malvern, Arkansas at three a.m. Monday morning and arrived at Malvern via Little Rock, accompanied by his father, mother, and two brothers, Grady and Van and Van's wife and Henry GASTER, his brother-in-law, and others, where we buried him after holding services over his remains in a church he took a leading part in building when he was pastor at Malvern. On Monday the 23rd, before Christmas, I was called to go to Wilmar to help bury Neal PARKER. We buried him on the morning of the 24th at the chapel, near his old home. I arrived home in Dermott 9:30 p.m. on the 25th, Christmas Day. I married at 11 a.m., Charlie MEASEL and Miss Dell ANDERSON. Left that p.m. for my son's at Warren, accompanied by Lucy and Scud. Spent two nights and one day there in Warren. On the morning of the 27th was called by phone to go to Montrose, Arkansas, as my beloved brother and comrade had died suddenly (this was not a sibling). We buried him that night and on the 5th Sunday in March 1918 we had memorial services at Fellowship Church at Snyder. In June, 1919 my wife and Vivian went to Eureka Springs where they spent three and a half months, learning from Vivian that my wife was sick I left home on Tuesday morning at 3 o'clock a.m., after the second Sunday in July, spent 24 hours in Eureka Springs, found Ellen better, left Wed. 6:30 p.m. arrived at home Dermott, Thursday 3 p.m., left Friday 2 p.m.

for Fountain Hill where I held nine days meeting, preaching day and night. As result of meeting there baptised three in July and August and five in September. The day I was 78 years old May 13, I went to Atlanta, Georgia to the Southern Baptist Convention, the greatest convention in numbers, 400,220, in spiritual ability and brotherly love and accord. After working through July and a portion of August by day and night by advice of Dr. HAWKINS of Parkdale I left the field in Arkansas and went to New Orleans and rested ten days. The first rest after 41 years in the ministry. Baptised a young lady the morning before I went for New Orleans, Sister Maude COCKRELL at Parkdale, Arkansas. September 30th, I left home for Bartholomew Association ten miles north of Hamburg, spent the 1st and 2nd of October at the association. I preached the introductory sermon. Got back home 3 a.m. the 3rd, left for reunion of ex-confederates at Atlanta, Georgia, at 2 p.m. Spent Sunday the 5th at Little Rock. Arrived at Atlanta, Georgia with wife at 3 a.m. on the 7th, by 3:30 we were in bed in one of the best homes in Atlanta, Mr. PARSONS, 618 Ponce DeLeon Street. We spent the 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th to the 12th and 15th in Atlanta, left for home, arrived at Dermott, at 9 p.m. the 11th. I changed clothing and went to Parkdale, 30 miles south of Dermott. Arrived at Parkdale at 3:30 a.m. in a downpour of rain. Slept about three hours and preached at 11 and night. As it continued to rain we both left Parkdale about 5 p.m. on the 15th for home. I arrived at Dermott about 7 p.m. I have been preaching Sunday and night since. We held our Baptist Convention at Imanuel Church at Little Rock on the 12th and 13th. On the 16th I preached at Grady and spent two nights and a day with Emma and Dan. Preached three times on the 23rd. Spent Thanksgiving at Warren, spending two nights and one day with Billie and Fay and the three sweet children. Preached the 5th Sunday, Nov. 30 at McArthur. Preached twice, came home to Dermott where the church promised $9000.00 for the 75 million campaign. I promised $25.00. So at 8 p.m., praising God and happy in his service preached Friday night at Portland, Arkansas. Before the 1st Sunday Dec. 1st at Wilmot, L. E. BARTON met me and preached two sermons. The Wilmot church agreed to pay $2,500.00 on the 75 million campaign for five years. Parkdale agreed to pay $2,600 and Blissville, by Sister and Brother J. P. BAKER and children $300.00. My wife went to bed sick Christmas morning. With many remembrances and gifts from loved ones Christmas was not as pleasant as desired. Wife had been near deaths door but thankful to say she is much better this bright sunshiny morning, Jan. 14, 1920.

After more than four months I write again, this May 27, 1920, wife, Ellen Harriot DENSON, passed away January 23, 1920. A precious one from us was gone, a voice we loved is still, A place is vacant in our home, which never can be filled. God in his wisdom has recalled the beam his love had given and the body slumbers here, the soul safe at rest. After the death of my beloved wife I decided to let my mind have a chance or rest and as February had five Sundays I decided to go to the five places I was preaching and tell them I must rest a while, and so, on the last day of March I left for Mimbers, New Mexico to visit three nieces, Jethro, Lena, and Mary Denson, my brother's girls. I arrived at Members the evening of the 3rd of April, remained until April 12, had a good time, preached once. I returned by way of Oklahoma City, visited Cora Mack PEEL, spent 24 hours, stopped in Little Rock, Arkansas dined with B.P. and Bob Midd. Spent a night at Grady with Dan and E. M. CLEMENTS, reached home the evening of the 13th. Scud DANIEL and Lucy sold their new home and moved into my house and are making home as pleasant as possible. After the death of my beloved wife Maude SKIPPER, Miss Becky told me later of her anxiety that day. Well as agreed on by Miss Becky HUGHES and I on the night of December 27th, we were married. We were to have an infair (infare) dinner the next day at my house but that night Jos GUICE, a negro boy of that neighborhood, stole Jim, the noted mule, saddle and bridle, and left for other parts. About an hour by the sun, the next morning, when my half-brother, Ed BALDY, who was to bring horse and mule for Miss Becky and I to ride home and eat an infair dinner, he came with horse minus the mule and my suspicion was aroused. I said to Miss Becky, "You stay here at your pa's and I will go and search for the mule." After riding several hours and several miles and getting friends to go in different directions, I got on hot trail about 12 miles from home, about 10 miles south of Monticello, I went on until within 4 miles of Monticello, I saw with bridle and saddle hitched to paling in front of Brother R. Y. ROYAL'S house, the negro standing between the house and gate. He, the negro standing between the house and the gate. He, the negro, was in the act of trading the mule to a Mr. GREENLEE, for a horse and $20.00 to boot, so I took charge of the negro and mule and in order to make the negro secure I tied his arms so they would hang limp by his sides and put on my horse, and I rode the mule which had a good saddle, a better saddle than the horse, and as I desired to get back where Miss Becky was, as early as possible, I let the negro ride instead of making him walk. It was very cold. The sun shone until just before sunset, when it clouded up and began to sleet and snow. I went by Mr. BENSONS to let his son, Porter, who had gone to Longview, ten miles on the Saline River, to look for the mule, and to let him know I had the mule and thief and was going back to wife

Migrate?

You're a farmer with a family, living in the British Isles during the 18th century. Your land is leased from an absentee landowner; it has been under cultivation for centuries, crop varieties yield little product for much labor. Land rent is high and fertility of soil is declining. You are paid little for your crops yet find your expenses of living steadily increasing. Your land lease comes up for renewal and the landowner asks a rent increase or move.

Move? But where will you go? Rental rates are high and climbing? Other employment is scarce, and farming is the only occupation you have. Hear what George McKay, aged 40, married with a year old child, by trade a tailor and farmer had to say as he left Scotland for the promise of a better life in America. His rent was raised, the services demanded of him by the landowner was 12 days yearly in addition to the rent. The price of cattle, on which he chiefly depended for his livelihood was greatly reduced, and the little corn that was raised in the country had been blighted by frost for the past two years. Farmers in general were brought into great distress. In this circumstance he had no resource but to follow his countrymen to America as the condition there can scarce be worse. Migrate he did, joining others driven from the Highlands to the forested frontier of America. Some few had financial resources to pay their own passage to America, but most leaving on the verge of financial failure, had to sell themselves in return for their passage to this promised land.

Sell yourself? Yes, as an indentured servant, or Redemptioner, before leaving the British Isles you presented yourself to a ship master, owner, or their agent. With the agent you then appeared before the magistrate or judge in the port city and signed a legal document called an INDENTURE. Under its terms in exchange for your passage, you promised to work for the agent, or any person to whom your indenture was sold, for a stated period of time – generally four years. In effect, you were the temporary slave of some new master in the colonies. The agent following your indenture provided your passage expenses, and sometimes clothing, then on arrival generally offered your indenture for sale to recoup his expenses.

The lot of the Redemptioner was only slightly different. If you could not pay your way to America you might be indentured with the provision that once you reached the colonies you had a period of a day or days to obtain your passage money. If you failed to secure the passage money in America you were continued as an indentured servant until your time of service expired. If you were able to secure your passage money in America during the allotted time your indenture was redeemed – given back to you upon payment of the passage charge, and you were a free man.

Some of the American colonies encouraged immigration by offering free land to each head of family who would come to settle. Others offered land to persons paying the passage of another, even an indentured servant. When the indentured servant had completed service, he became eligible for a grant of land himself in many colonies.

Indenture was not all bad. It enabled many to travel here who would never amass the cost – a year's wages for a farmer – and made them eligible land grants. Once they were free, their rise in power, prestige and possessions was directly proportional to their ability, hard work, and zeal. No hereditary ruling class, with its restrictions and prerogatives, complicated their rise. Land, that unobtainable quantity in the British Isles, was theirs for the taking. New challenges, new opportunities and new rewards made men risk all, suffer the demeaning servitude of indenture, and rise to new heights in America.

In most instances, the indenture period offered a sheltered employment to the new man. Here he learned our agricultural methods and crops, met the people, joined the church, and saw what his prospects would be when he once again became a free agent. He was apprenticed to another man, who had successfully transplanted himself into his new environment. Many proved themselves during their period of indenture, and became men of parts in this new land.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE--NOVEMBER 14, 1995
SPECIAL TO ALL ASHLEY COUNTY NEWS MEDIA

JOHN P. FISHER HOUSE LISTED ON NATIONAL REGISTER OF HISTORIC PLACES

LITTLE ROCK, AR--The John P. Fisher House near Portland in Ashley County has been listed on the National Register of Historic Places, the country's official list of historically significant properties, Arkansas Historic Preservation Program Director Cathy Slater announced today. The AHPP is an agency of the Department of Arkansas Heritage.

The John P. Fisher House, located west of County Road 50 near Highway 278, a two-story, wood-frame I-house designed in the Greek Revival style of architecture around 1850.

"Despite the recent application of vinyl siding and other various alterations that have occurred in its approximately 145-year lifespan, the Fisher House is significant by virtue of its being the only surviving example of an antebellum Greek Revival style residence in Ashley County," the National Register nomination says.

"Although the architectural record from antebellum Ashley County is scant, there were probably few similarly styled residences constructed, with the majority of structures being of a more vernacular, single-story type" the nomination says. "The Fisher House is certainly distinctive in its singularity today."

Origin of the Scots

This article began with the words of Gum Swamp Edward Cameron which were A man is never lost on a road if he knows how he got there. This is the story of how the Scottish people came to America.

The story of the Scottish race began some 12,000 years ago in a country, some 12,000 miles away in the Ob River area of Central Siberia. These pre-Scots were eaters of meat and lived by hunting. They tended to be nomadic, following game and pasturage. In an attempt not to deplete their hunting areas of wild-life, they hunted in small groups, thus the clan system was established.

Their basic strain was Celtic, meaning a kilt wearer. The name probably evolved from the time when they learned to hang the skin of slain animals over their own hairy hides.

Eventually climatic changes drove the Celts and thier herds southward into India and on into Persia. Out of the jungles of India, they brought along with their herds, the chicken whose eggs they learned to eat. The chicken became the national symbol of France after the Celts passed that way.

During their journey, the Celts passed through the area between the Black and Caspian Sea and came into contact with the Semites, which was probably their first introduction to civilization. From this exchange, some Hebrew words began to have the earmarks of Celtic origin. (example: ar meaning west – words having the ar in them indicates westward points in geographical location.)

There are also many traditions in Scotland which have a Biblical background.. One story has Noah inviting the head of the McNeil clan to share the Ark with him during the Flood.

Another story says that Scots, a daughter of an Egyptian pharaoh, married into one of the clans, thus giving the name Scotland to the country. Another story says that the Stone of Scone was the rock that Jacob used as a pillow when he had his dream.

As the Stone Age turned to the Iron Age, these savage fighters were so impressed with the newly developed iron weapons, it was perfectly natural for them to begin eating iron oxide in the belief it would make them stronger and better fighters. It did. It also provided them with something else, red hair. Recently, it has been discovered that the red hair pigment is a rare chemical compound of iron and other complex substances. Chromosomes and genes developed among these iron oxide eaters who had a capacity to utilize a quota of iron over that normally required. Thus a typed red-haired group became a heredity element in the Celtic generations.

Time passed and the ancient warriors were on the prowl again. They followed the Black Sea until they came to a gratty muddy river which they called the Donnob. Hundreds of years later, this river received the Latin name Danube.

Up this river they moved in successive waves. They left behind them evidence of thier stay; names of places, and in Greece, the kilt. Even today the finest fighters of Greece are the Evzones, kilt wearers. It was probably during their stay in this region, the Celts developed the bag pipes. (to be continued)
